- 7. On 3 June 1951, wall posters all over Erro summoned all men of the 1929 through 1932 classes who were subject to the draft and all non-registered members of the older classes to report to the military subdistrict headquarters for registration.
- 8. Enrollment in the military academy depended on whether the applicants were members of the CSM or KSC and had no relatives either in prison or living in Western countries. The applicant's parents also had to be members of the KSC. No high school diploma was asked for; instead, a recommendation by the local KSC branch was to be submitted.
